Another Suicide.
About seven o'clock yesterday morning a distressing suicide was committed by a German named Jacob Waggoner, who roomed on the corner of Fifteenth and Vine streets. As far as we could ascertain, the circumstances attending the affair are as follows:

Waggoner was a tanner, about forty years of age, and a single man, of industrious habits, and one never given to a free use of ardent spirits; but within the last four or five days he has given evidence of insanity, and yesterday he went to the river, and after giving away his watch to some colored stevedore, he attempted to drown himself, but was rescued by several parties who were present.

He then retired to his room, and a friend took charge of him, watching by his bedside all night, and till seven o'clock yesterday morning, when he went down stairs to take breakfast. He was absent but a few minutes, and when he returned he found that Waggoner had procured a common table knife and cut his throat, not only severing many of the principal arteries, but his wind-pipe, from the effects of which death resulted at about ten or eleven o'clock to-day.

As soon as his insanity commenced he imagined that he was an outcast, and that all the world was his enemy. He would endeavor to fly even from his best friends, who, he supposed, were pursuing him with a view to his assassination; and finally to avoid an imaginary danger, he died by his own hands. His infatuation was, indeed, both strange and unaccountable.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Curious Case—A Fish Bone in a Man's Neck for Twenty Years.
A few days since a laboring man, who works in Woodruff's plaster mill, in this city called upon one of our surgeons for the purpose of having a tumor upon the neck, just under the angle of the jaw bone, removed. The tumor was about the size of a large hen's egg, and had been there about ten years. After getting a history of the case, the surgeon suspected that the tumor had been occasioned by some foreign substance such as a bone. Before attempting to remove the tumor it was laid open, and a fish bone, about three-quarters of an inch long, and an eighth of an inch in diameter, of irregular shape was discovered and removed. The patient had attempted to swallow this bone over twenty years ago, but it had lodged in his throat, occasioning more or less trouble ever since. Nature attempted to remove it, but had failed, as the bone had travelled through the neck about an inch, in a direction outward and downward, where it became encysted and remained. The tumor has since been removed, and the patient is doing well, and attending to his daily labor. It seems strange that a foreign substance could remain so long imbedded in the flesh without decaying; but Nature prevented this by enveloping it in a cystic membrane.—Albany Argus.

FACTORY GIRLS IN FRANCE.—At the woolen manufactories in Rheims a large number of female operatives are employed, and they are said to present a striking contrast to the same class of workwomen in this country and in England. Instead of the well-dressed and intelligent factory girls to be found in the great manufacturing cities of America and England, these poor French women are described as being but little better than working animals, and they receive even less consideration from their employers than the brutes. Their clothing is of the scantiest description, "but little more substantial than the fig-leaf of mother Eve," and their faces seem to indicate that all intelligence and the softer feelings of the sex have been obliterated by the hard labor which they have to undergo in order to obtain the scanty wages which are no more than enough to barely support existence. The woolen manufactories of Rheims are principally owned and managed by English capitalists.

OF HON. DANIEL D. BURNES, of Weston, Mo., who died on the 14th., it is stated that since his wife's death he would often lie on her grave all night, exclaiming that he longed to be buried with her. From time to time he stated that he should die within a year from her death, and within a day of the limit he set his words proved true. He was formerly a representative in the General Assembly; he filled many offices of honor and trust, and as a man was esteemed by all who knew him.

BY a late official report, made to the Russian Council of State, at Petersburg, it appears that for 1867 the income and expenditure of Russia are estimated at $[illegible] each. This includes, also, the income and expenditure of Russian Poland. The Russian tax returns this year shows an increase as compared with last year.

[By Mail.]

NEW YORK, April 27.—The steamer American from Southampton, on the 16th, has arrived.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times believes some means will be found to reconcile the conflicting pretensions of France and Prussia. The La Presse says, however, there is one point, and one only, on which France cannot accept of any compromise. That is the presence of Prussian soldiers in Luxemburg.

It is announced that the factory of Saint Ettienne has just delivered 60,000 needle guns to the French Minister of War. The establishment is said to be in a position to be able to claim the premium of the 30,000 francs offered by the government for the completion of 100,000 rifles by the last of April.

The La France says that the news circulated about the calling out of the reserves is devoid of all foundation.

The Gazette of France says: If we are well informed, the Florence Cabinet has already caused it to be intimated to the French government, that in case of war between France and Prussia, Italy would be on the side of her allies of 1859.

M. Ricalsasi, on the contrary, inclined toward Prussia, and the ministerial crisis, which is not quite over, though a Rattazzi ministry is constituted, is said to have been occasioned especially by the question of alliances with a view of the approaching European war.

The Avenir Nationale is certain there will be no war at present between France and Prussia. The movement against the army organization bill seems to be spreading in the departments.

Princess Helena, wife of Prince Christian of Schleswig Holstein, has given birth to a Prince.

The Avenir Nationale is to be prosecuted for having promulgated false news, in having asserted that military preparations were being made at Lyons and certain warlike steps taken by the War Department.

The French legislative body have adopted a bill relative to imprisonment for debt. The bill conferring a pension on Lamartine was also passed.

In the North German Parliament Bismarck announced the Federal Government would accept most of the amendments to the draft of the Constitution, if the House would give way on the question of remuneration to deputies and the army arrangements. In the debate which followed Bismarck said: "If the opposition prevents me from completing the work begun, I shall request the King to relieve me of my post." Parliament subsequently took action in conformity with Bismarck's request.

A letter from Crete, March 26th, says every attempt of the Turks to advance beyond the open country of the northern shore has been repulsed with loss.

NEW YORK, April 28.—The new steamer Cimbra, from Southampton on the 17th inst., arrived early this morning.

The Paris Presse has a rumor that Bismarck would resign, in consequence of a difference of opinion between himself and the King, the latter being unwilling to accept the evacuation of Luxemburg, on the principle, it was said, that Count Von Der Goltz would succeed him.

Reports are current of the arrest of Prussian officers by the French authorities at Thionville, and of the arrest of French officers at Mayeance and Sordon, but they were declared unfounded.

A circular from the French war office fixes the price of exemption from military service at 3,000 francs during 1867, and each year remaining at 600 francs.

In the North German Parliament Bismarck made a speech, announcing the concurrence in the amendments to the draft of Federal Constitution, by which the strength of the army on a peace footing remains unaltered until a common federal code of laws could be promulgated. He opposed the amendment that the next five years should be considered years of transaction, and that after that period the army on a peace footing should be maintained in the same strength as hitherto, until the promulgation of a general code of laws, when the army expenses should nevertheless be fixed by special law on the basis of the hitherto existing organization. The amendment Bismarck supported was rejected by one hundred and sixty-seven against one hundred and ten, when Bismarck urgently requested the House to pass an amendment which would leave to the Government the choice of time for promulgating a common federal code of laws, saying that unless this amendment was adopted the Federal governments would not agree to the draft, and the task of drawing up the Constitution might possibly at the last moment be frustrated. Notwithstanding this amendment was rejected by one hundred and fifty-seven against one hundred and nineteen, the amendment which Bismarck offered was then adopted by two hundred and two against eighty. All the remaining articles of the draft were then adopted.

The Polish members, who had supported Bismarck, have resigned their seats, in consequence, they said, of the failure of the last attempt to prevent the act of violence committed by their incorporations in the North-German Confederation.

The Italian government has given very stringent orders to prevent or repress any attempt to violate the pontificial territory.

The Courier De Lyons confirms the previous statement of the dispatch of war material to the east and northeast of France.

A Cherbourg paper states that the 65th regiment of the line has been raised to the full war footing.

The Frankfort Journal says all the workmen in iron and timber to be found in Strasbourg are engaged for service in arsenals, and heavy guns have been forwarded from Strasbourg to fortify Metz.

The London Times, of the 17th, has an editorial favoring the neutralization of Luxemburg.

It was rumored that Russia and Prussia were in negotiation for a transfer to Prussia of all Poland to Vistula.

Ninety members had withdrawn from the Bohemian Diet on account of the irregularities attending the present elections.

A proclamation was issued in Rome, calling on the population to rise and promising Garibaldi's support.

The interdiction upon the sale of the La Liberte in the streets of Paris has diminished its circulation.

A Berlin letter to the Times says Russia seems favorably disposed to Prussia, while Austria affects to be impartial, but somewhat suspicious of neutrality. The Russian journals claim Luxemburg is German, though belonging to the Confederacy. They also state the Polish fortresses are being armed with rifled artillery.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Letter from Thad. Stevens.

HE DISAPPROVES THE UTTERANCES OF SENATOR WILSON,

More Conscience Money.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.
WASHINGTON, April 27, 1867.

THADDEUS STEVENS AND SENATOR WILSON.

The health of Thaddeus Stevens has much improved. He expects to leave for Pennsylvania next week. He to-day wrote a letter for publication, taking for his subject the following extract from a notice of Senator Wilson's recent speeech, near Hampton Roads: "He (Wilson) said there would be no impediment to Southern representation in Congress if they elected Union men, and closed his remarks by saying he would leave Virginia with the full conviction that a Republican Governor, Legislature and two Senators would be elected." Mr. Stevens says:

Mr. Editor:—Such articles as this are calculated to do much harm. They throw obstacles in the way of future reconstruction, being quoted and relied on as pledges by the Republican party. Hence much trouble arises from certain loose and indefinite expressions contained in a bill which was reported by the Reconstruction Committee of the Thirty-ninth Congress, though never passed. It was perverted by faction and folly in argument against the whole party in Congress. This generally arises from carelessness of reporters; sometimes from inadvertance of the speakers. No man should make promises for a party. By what authority does any one say that by the election of loyal delegates they will be admitted? By what authority say that Virginia will elect two loyal Senators, while in truth there is no Virginia! Much is to be done by the people and Congress before any Representative or Senator, or State, can be recognized. Who authorized any orator to say there would be no confiscation! As in another place, these things are too flippantly said. I think they had better be gravely pondered. Who is authorized to travel the country and peddle out amnesty? I would say to the most guilty, expect punishment and then quietude; but first a mild confiscation to pay those who have been robbed by disloyal men. These are my wishes, and mine only, perhaps. THADDEUS STEVENS.

ADDITIONS TO THE CONSCIENCE FUND.

There were received to-day at the Treasury Department, from Cincinnati, two packages, one containing two thousand five hundred and the other one thousand dollars. No particulars concerning the amounts were given, and they were appropriated to the conscience fund.

INDIAN WAR NEWS.

A letter was received at the office of Indian Affairs, from the agent at Leavenworth, dated the seventh inst., in the neighborhood of Fort Larned, in which it is stated that General Custar, who was in pursuit of fifteen hundred fleeing Indians, did not overtake any of them. The writer believes the Cheyennes departed towards the South, while the Sioux took a northern direction.

DISBURSEMENTS AND RECEIPTS.

The disbursements for the week were $5,229,604; receipts of internal revenue for the week, $2,608,206; receipts of customs for the week, $3,045,761,46.

PUBLIC DEBT STATEMENT FOR APRIL.

It is not probable the publication of the regular monthly statement of the public debt for the present month will be delayed beyond the first or second of May. The indications are it will show a reduction in the debt of five to six millions. The receipts of Customs and Internal Revenue for the month will be about twenty-eight millions, one-half of which being for Customs. In coin the statement will probably show one hundred millions, and fourteen millions or more of gold certificates in the Treasury.

FROM MEXICO.

The U. S. Messenger to Juarez—State of Affairs at Tampico.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, April 27.—Hon. Lewis D. Campbell, U. S. Minister to Mexico, states that the messenger dispatched by him to President Juarez at San Luis Potosi, with instructions to proceed via Tampico, was advised by General Reynolds, at Brazos Santiago, to proceed overland from there, in consequence of Gomez and Canales being at Tampico with about four thousand men, in the interest of Ortega, although Gomez and Canales were ostensibly in the service of the Liberals. The whole object seems to be to secure the revenues of the Custom House, and they have refused to obey Juarez's order to join him at Queretaro.

General Miramon Mortally Wounded at Queretaro.

NEW YORK, April 28.—Late advices from Queretaro, to the Secretary of State, state that the Imperialists made another sortie on the 6th, but were repulsed and Gen. Miramon mortally wounded.

FROM GEORGIA.

Another Speech by Governor Brown—It is Favorably Received.

AUGUSTA, April 27.—Governor Brown addressed a large meeting of citizens at the Court House this evening. He took the same ground as in his Atlanta and Savannah speeches, advising the people to accept the terms offered by Congress as being the best and only hope of Southern restoration. The President's opposition would exasperate the Northern people, and would lead to confiscation. On the other hand, the speedy acceptance of the terms offered will lead to a speedy restoration. His address was favorably received.

Railroad Difficulty—A False Statement Corrected.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, April 27.—The Democrat this morning editorially contradicts by authority the statement that Governor Fletcher will permit the purchasers of the South West Branch Railroad to retain possession without the performance of the contract. It says if such statements have been made in Wall street to facilitate the selling of bonds. they are utterly without foundation and false.

A Singular Case Becomes More Singular—An Accuser Becomes a Defender.

The readers of the GAZETTE will doubtless remember the case of Thomas Hallowell, an Englishman, charged by his son aged fourteen years, with the crime of adultery, having noted in our local columns its progress before Alderman Strain, the magistrate before whom the information was made. On Saturday the case was brought up in the Criminal Court, in the shape of an application for the reduction of the bail, the accused having been committed in default of security in the sum of $1,500 for his appearance for trial, or rather imprisoned on a bail piece, two persons who severally became his bail having surrendered him. Hallowell lived in the Seventh ward, in property under the control or agency of Mr. William M. Arthurs, who became interested in his behalf, as also did Dr. Robert Wray, one of the Prison Visiting Committee. Their interest arose from representations made to them by the accused, who said he was a much injured man, and also from the statements of the boy accuser. John M. Kirkpatrick, Esq., brought the matter to the attention of the Court. The boy, whose name is Ernest Hallowell, was called and stated in substance: Having had a difficulty at home, he was forced to go away, and with a view to compel his father to take him back, went to the Mayor's office. Finding no one there, he next went to the office of Alderman Strain, where he found the clerk, Eb. Williams, Jr., Esq., to whom he told his story. In reply to inquiries he stated that his mother was in England, his father having left her there when he came to this country; that his father had another woman living with him; that Mr. Williams remarked, "we'll attend to him," and then wrote something on paper, to which he was told he must swear, by holding up his right hand; that afterwards he was taken to the tombs, remained there over night, and that while there he was visited by Mr. Williams, who told him that if he did not swear to everything that was in that paper, he would be sent to the House of Refuge; that he subsequently was taken before Alderman Strain, and under the fear of being sent to the Refuge, he answered "yes" to everything that was asked him. The boy further said that it was not his intention to prosecute his father for adultery, but simply to ascertain if he could not be forced to provide for him. The woman living with his father was his housekeeper, and he had never observed anything improper between them. He (the boy) had a difficulty with the housekeeper, she striking him for something he had done, or refused to do, and he returning the blow. His father had attempted to punish him, but he left the house, and when he returned he was denied admittance. Mr. Arthurs had procured a place for him in the country, where he had since been employed. He repeatedly denied any knowledge of improper intimacy between his father and the housekeeper. Before leaving England, they (the woman and his father) entered into an agreement, by which she was to live with him as his housekeeper for one year. As a reason for the leaving of his mother in England, the boy stated that she "took to drink," and was so intemperate that his father could not live with her.

Mr. Arthurs stated that he knew Hallowell. He paid his rent, and otherwise appeared respectable. When he rented the house he said his family consisted of himself, two sons and his housekeeper.

A younger son of Hallowell was present in Court, and corroborated his brother in stating that he had observed nothing on which to base the charge of adultery.

Alderman Strain, being advised of the statements which had been made, appeared in Court and spoke in his own behalf. He stated the manner in which the case had been brought to his attention, and flatly controverted the boy's assertions. Before qualifying him to the information the Alderman said he fully explained the nature of it and cautioned him as to what he was doing. The woman with whom Hallowell was charged with unlawfully cohabiting complained against the boy for making threats, and on her information he was committed to jail, but soon after released, through the exertions of the Alderman himself, who induced a gentleman to go the lad's bail. Hallowell had three different hearings, the accuser at the second repeating in his testimony what he had said at the first, going to show his father's guilt. A third hearing was arranged, the accused promising to adduce evidence of his innocence; but when the time came, the boy was not present, the father denying any knowledge of him, and stating that he had gone back to England or some whereelse. There was however, evidence produced which the Alderman deemed sufficient to hold the defendant to answer, which he did. He believed then, and was convinced now, that the boy had been tampered with, the result of which was his non-appearance at the third hearing, and his presence in court denying his former statements. The Alderman requested to be and was qualified to his statement.

Eb. Williams, Jr. Esq., was also sworn, and said that the boy was mistaken in what he had said concerning him. His visit at the tombs was out of sympathy, having procured him a meal, and also gave him money. Subsequently, at the hearing, when the father endeavored to induce his son to damnify the character of his mother, by saying that it was such as to compel his father to leave her, he (Mr. Williams) had interceded and prevented such a shocking exhibition. In all his connection with the case, he acted as the friend of the lad, but did not act toward him as was now represented.

Mr Hallowell frequently essayed to speak, receiving no encouragement from the Court, but was finally allowed to have his say, with the injunction to be brief. He protested that from the commencement of the case he had been badgered by police officers and lawyers, and got into his present situation (in prison) through his persistent refusal to pay the sum of $200, for which he was told the matter could be settled; he had said that he was guiltless, and would not pay "two hundred cents;" those who had become his bail had been induced to surrender him through the influence of the persons who were dogging him for money, by representing that he was going to run away.

After considerable time spent in hearing statements pro and con, the belief pretty generally obtained that the boy had caused the whole trouble by telling different stories. The Court believed Alderman Strain's action in the matter to have been entirely regular, as also did Mr. Kirkpatrick, who made the application for the reduction of bail, at the instance of parties who believed that wrong had been done. Dr. Wray said no one, he hoped, would charge him with having any personal interest in the case. He first saw the defendant on the Sabbath previous, during a visit to the prison, and had interested himself in his behalf on the strength of the representations he had made,

The matter ended by the Court instructing the clerk to take bail in the sum of five hundred dollars for the appearance of Hallowell for trial.

Slackwater—Meeting of the Commissioners—Committee to Visit Pittsburgh.

We clip the following from the Morgantown Post:

The cloud of doubt has somewhat dispersed. Gleams of hope have interspersed the gloom, and the friends of Slackwater are once more jubilant.

Another meeting of the Commissioners was held on Saturday last. On account of the storminess of the day, and other unfavorable circumstances, the books that have been distributed through the country were not in, though it is ascertained that about twenty-five thousand dollars has already been subscribed, and as yet but little effort has been made. When this work was commenced the most sanguine did not anticipate that the money could be raised in a less period than two years, and yet two months have scarcely elapsed while we have been raising one-third of the whole amount.

Mr. D. H. Chadwick reported to the meeting that he had met Hon. J. K. Moorhead, while on a trip to the east, and ascertained from him that the probable cost of our dam will not exceed $75,000. Mr. Moorhead is President of the slackwater company below, and is in every way well informed on the subject. We had heretofore been estimating the cost at $100,000—now we are glad to know that one-fourth of our estimate will not be needed; that one-third of the whole amount has already been subscribed; and it is confidently believed that the friends of the enterprise in Pittsburgh and along the river will send us the greater part of the $50,000 yet remaining to be raised.

The commissioners with their growing enthusiasm, (with the aid of a few friends,) promptly subscribed an amount of money to pay the expenses of a committee to visit Pittsburgh and ascertain what amount can be obtained there in aid of the enterprise. Col. James Evans. Richard B. Carr, and Waitman T. Willey were chosen for the purpose. With such men as Moorhead and Dawson to steer them through, they cannot help but succeed.

The Committee left for Pittsburgh on Tuesday last, to solicit subscriptions of stock to the Marion and Monongalia Navigation Company. The commissioners certainly made good selections. Three better men for that duty could not be found in the county. We trust their most sanguine hopes may be more than realized. The "smoky city" is more interested in this improvement than any other locality—not excepting even this place. The Pennsylvania Central Railroad, and the two line of steamers running to Geneva are deeply interested in it. Will they see it in that light?

Habeas Corpus Contempt Case.—The Answer of Warden White.

Saturday morning, at nine o'clock, was the hour fixed for the argument on the rule issued upon William White, Warden of the county jail, to show cause why an attachment should not issue against him for contempt in consequence of his failure to obey a writ of habeas corpus, commanding him to produce in the District Court, at ten o'clock Wednesday morning last, the body of John W. Mickey, in his custody under a commitment from Alderman Donaldson. The Warden, as has been stated, released the prisoner at eight o'clock (or sooner) on the morning of that day, giving him into the custody of Officer Sarber, conceiving it to be his duty so to do, inasmuch as the prisoner had been committed for a "further hearing" at that hour. Officer Sarber took the prisoner to Uniontown, where he stood charged with the offense for which Alderman Donaldson committed him for a "further hearing." The Court, thinking its authority treated with contempt, allowed the rule to show cause.

Judge Williams, when the case was called, expressed surprise at the publicity which had been given the matter. He had not so intended, and was at a loss to know how the reporters got the information. He had the writ in his pocket, and there was but one copy of the rule, which had been served. The newspapers had given the facts and the law and decided the case, and there seemed little else to do in the matter. His Honor was in his best humor, and seemed disposed to be lenient, whether enlightened from the newspaper law he had read or not, we are not vain enough to say.

Thos. M. Marshall, Esq., presented the answer of Warden White to the rule, setting forth the fact that Mickey had been committed for a further hearing on Wednesday morning at eight o'clock, and that when the writ was served upon him he remarked to R. S. Morrison, Esq., counsel for the prisoner, that the defendant would be out of his custody before the hour fixed for the return, He further stated that he had no intention to commit contempt, but acted according to his judgment and the practice prevailing in the Court of Quarter Sessions. He also stated that the prisoner was given into the custody of officer Sarber by Deputy Warden Smith, during his absence, but that the Deputy acted from the same impressions of the law as he himself had, and without the slighest intention of disrespect to the Court. The Warden further stated that after the prisoner had been remanded to the custody of the officer, he called at the residence of Judge Williams with a view of ascertaining if he had committed an error, intending, if such were the case, to follow Mickey and bring him back. He failed to see the Judge, however, as he was indisposed, and therefore abandoned the idea of pursuit. Leave was also asked to amend the return to the writ of habeas corpus so as to include the fact that the prisoner was released by Deputy Smith, and also that the release was made under the impression that there was no authority for holding the prisoner beyond the time fixed by the commitment from the Alderman. The request was granted, and Judge Williams took possession of the papers, deferring his decision till another time.

The counsel for the rule were not present, and hence an extended argument did not take place as anticipated.

The Telegraph as a Commercial Agent.

It is really a matter of astonishment when we look back a few years, and contrast the old methods of communication with the present, and note the grand accomplishments of science in furnishing news and mediums for the promotion of commercial activity and energy. It was a tremendous impulse forward when the genius of Stephenson brought to the aid of commerce the locomotive power of steam applicable to the solid highways of terra firma. The speed of water communication was improved upon, but still man's ambition was not satisfied until the lightnings themselves were forced into the channel of trade as the active servants of commerce. It is of course within the memory of our young men that the first telegraph wire was stretched between Washington and Baltimore, and intelligible signals flashed over it. Since then our country has become a net work of wires, and not only the important centers, but almost every town and hamlet has instant communication with its fellows, near and remote. Our country has become a system of nerves and electric pulsations, vivify every part from ocean to ocean, and a living chord binds us to the old world. Within the past four or five years telegraph communication has been greatly improved and systematized. Lines have been multiplied and every important point has now several outlets over different routes, rendering it hardly possible that communication be totally interrupted by atmosphere of other disturbance. Instead of a limited number of wires, confined to one route to the East, and meagre facilities West, there are now wires on every available route East and West. The lines are abundant and equal to any emergency or call that can be made upon them.

With no desire to make invidious distinctions, we must say that the Western Union Telegraph Co. has been principally instrumental in bringing about this desirable condition of affairs. It has ever sought to keep pace with, if not in advance of the demands of the times. To-day all the great cities are upon an equal footing in New York and with each other. The merchant in St. Louis or Chicago, for instance, on 'change' is enabled to avail himself of every variation in the New York market, and buy or sell there before the "turn" comes, however rapid the fluctuations may be. Orders are given and notice received of their being filled in less time than would be occupied in walking a dozen squares to transact the same business.

Not the least of all the important advances that have been made in the telegraph system, is the system of "night messages," inaugurated by the Western Union Company. Messages are now sent after night at reduced rates to all the principal cities between Halifax and New Orleans and St. Louis, thus affording the public the means of transmitting letters by the telegraph, which would not bear the delay of the mail. And yet this is only the "beginning of the end." As facilities multiply and commerce increases, the telegraph, under efficient management, will hold a still higher position as a means of speedy and reliable intercommunication, until it shall draw into its channels the entire correspondence of our business communities.

Large Importation of Foreign Wines.

The largest direct importation of foreign wines which ever reached this city was received on Saturday last by Messrs. Schmidt & Friday, 409 Penn street, whose card appears in another column. Indeed, we doubt very much whether any eastern importing house ever received, at any single time, such an immense invoice of the choicest wines to be procured in the European markets. The enormous puncheons, each containing several hundred gallons, occupy a great portion of the pavement of the square in which the store is located, and yet not one half of the invoice has arrived. The cargo of wines was shipped direct from Rotterdam to Pittsburgh. The wines have been selected with much care in the famous markets of Rhine, Pfalzer and Markgraefler, by the corresponding European firm of the Pittsburgh importers. The more famous brands of German wines are fully represented, such as Rudesheimer, Geisenheimer, Liebfrauenmilch, Deidesheimer Reisling, Neustader Vogelsang and Wormser, of vintages of 1846-59-62 and 1865. The wines are pure and unadulterated, fresh from the productive vineyards of smiling Germany, and for sacramental or family use, none superior can be obtained in this country. Many of our readers will be amazed at the extensiveness of the importation, but it must be remembered that Messrs. Schmidt & Friday control the supplying of wines not only here, but to a great extent throughout the entire West, and no importing house in America stands deservedly higher. They make a specialty of wines, and, we believe, are the only direct importers in the city; certainly they are the heaviest dealers west of the mountains. In addition to the German wines, they have imported a large stock of famous champaigne for table or party use, embracing the sparkling Hock, Mosel and Johannesberg, together with sparkling Red Burgundy, all in case. The firm dispose of wines either in packages or case, at advantageous prices to the purchasers.

Mr. G. W. Schmidt, the senior partner of the firm, yesterday took his departure for Europe, whither he goes to make further arrangements for future importations. He annually makes a trip to the wine countries of the old world, and has succeeded in establishing rare facilities for profitable importations upon a large scale. We wish him a pleasant journey and a safe return.

We commend Messrs. Shmidt & Friday to any of our readers who may use wines for medicinal, sacramental or table purposes, as fair dealing, honorable business gentleman, in whose word as to quality and character of goods the utmost reliance can be reposed.

Surety of the Peace,

Yesterday officer Strain of the Mayor's police arrested John Davis and —— Shaner, charged on oath of Charles Odell, a colored man, with a breach of the peace. The defendants in this case are first and second mates of the steam boat "Aurora" and it appears that on the last downward trip, the prosecutor came into the kitchen on board the boat and commenced to make considerable noise when the defendants put him out, and threatened him with injury if he came back again. On the hearing it was shown that the defendants had done nothing more than they should do in the premises and hence they were discharged and the prosecutor ordered to pay the costs.

Temperance Meeting.

A large and enthusiastic temperance meeting of the citizens of the Fifth ward, (Manchester), Allegheny, was held on Friday last, Rev. A. D. Clarke presiding and Jacob Rush, Esq., acting as secretary. Eloquent and stirring speeches in the good cause were made by Rev. W. Kirk, Rev. A. D. Clark and Rev. H. Cameron. The following gentlemen were appointed a committee on resolutions: Messrs. Jonathan Gallaher, Daniel Montgomery and John B. Gough. The committee retired and shortly after reported strong resolutions protesting against the licensing of any tavern or eating house in that ward, denouncing the framer of the new liquor law, and the Legislature for passing it, and expressing the highest confidence in the wisdom and discretion of the Board of Commissioners, calling upon them to issue no more license in the Manchester ward. A remonstrance was drawn up and numerously signed against the present applicants in that neighborhood for license, after which the meeting adjourned.

Alleged Forger Arrested.

John M. Beck was arrested on Saturday, charged before Alderman Donaldson with forgery, on oath of Mr. W. H. Cassiday, cashier of the Second National Bank, by whom it is alleged that on Saturday morning the accused presented a check at the counter of that institution calling for two hundred dollars, purporting to be drawn by Carnin & Baum, lumber merchants, payable to the order of Beck. The forgery was at once detected, and an information made as above stated. Beck's explanation of the matter is that he was doing business for the firm whose name he signed to the check; that he needed the money for the purpose of paying their debts; and that neither of the members of the firm being in the city, he thought he had a right to do as he did. In default of one thousand dollars bail, he was committed for a hearing this afternoon

Supposed Suicide.

Yesterday two small girls discovered a man hanging in an old house on Mr. Mc Gunnigle's farm, in Chartiers township From the appearance of the body it is supposed that he had been hanging there some time. His coat and some other articles of clothing were found in the house, but no papers of any kind, by which he could be identified. A number of residents in the vicinity visited the house, but none of them could remember of having seen the man in that locality before. The general supposition is that deceased had committed suicide. The coroner will hold an inquest to-day on his return from McKeesport.

Suicide by Hanging.

An old man named Wright, residing at Whitehall, seven or eight miles from the city, on the Brownsville road, committed suicide on Friday night last, by hanging himself. It is not known at what hour the deed was committed, but the lifeless body was discovered the next morning hanging to the post of a bed in his room. The deceased was aged about seventy-five years, and it is said that his mind was somewhat impaired. Coroner Clawson held an inquest on the body on Saturday afternoon, and a verdict was rendered in accordance with the facts.

During Saturday Evening and Sunday morning there were no less than four separate alarms of fire. The first, on Saturday at 3 P. M., was sounded from Box 65, and occasioned by the roof of Brewer & Brooke's oil refinery taking fire. The damage to the building was slight. On Saturday evening at 9:30 a chimney in Hunker's confectionary, on Liberty street near Wood, took fire, but did no damage whatever to the building. The alarm sounded at four o'clock on Sunday morning was occasioned by an ash-barrel taking fire in a lot on the corner of Penn and Allegheny streets; and the one about two hours afterwards by a shed in the rear of Grace Church, corner of Webster and Grant, taking fire. The shed was entirely consumed, but no damage to any other houses.

Body Found Floating in the Ohio River.—The Steubenville Herald says: The body of an unknown woman was found floating in the Ohio river, opposite Wellsville, on Saturday. She was about four feet ten inches in height, heavy set, round full face, supposed to be about twenty-five or thirty years of age; was dressed in a delaine dress, dark ground with a bright flower; dark woolen shawl, small quilted hood, morocco shoes, dark stockings, and cotton gloves with pink trimmings. She had in her possession two pictures of children, one about two years and the other about six months of age. She was buried in Spring Hill Cemetery.

Sudden Death of a Child.—On Saturday morning, the infant child of Mr. McCann, residing on Centre Avenue, was found dead in bed. The child was about four weeks old and was apparently in good health when the parents retired on Friday night. On Saturday morning, when Mrs. McCann awoke, the child was lying so quietly that she became alarmed, and on making closer examination, she found that it was dead. Alderman Butler held an inquest on the body, in the absence of the Coroner, and a verdict was rendered that the infant came to its death from being smothered.

Robbery at the Grain Elevator.—Patrick Barrow was on Saturday committed to jail by Alderman Taylor, for a hearing to-day, on a charge of larceny, preferred against him by Peter Ackerman. It is alleged that William Darsey, while intoxicated, was lying down near the Grain Elevator, on Liberty street, and while in this condition the accused robbed him of a silver watch, seventy cents in money—all he had—and a handkerchief. He was caught in the act by the prosecutor, who arrested and conveyed him before the Alderman, who disposed of him as above stated.

A Bear Hunt.—The Honesdale Republic says: On Thursday morning a large black bear, weighing in the neighborhood of three hundred pounds, made its appearance in the upper part of our town, and after traversing through two or three streets, made its way over the hills, pursued by a large party of hunters. They followed it all day, and although repeatedly fired at, his bearship's health was good at the close of the day, though somewhat fatigued from the extra exertions he had undergone.

Attempted Burglary.—On Friday night last, the family of Mrs. Wilson, residing at No. 30 Ross street, were aroused by some one attempting to break into the house. Three separate attempts were made to get into the house, but each time the party failed. In the last attempt to force open a window in the rear of the building some of the glass was broken, which so much frightened the burglars that no efforts was afterwards made to get in.

Surety of the Peace.—Alderman McMasters issued a warrant, on Saturday, for arrest of officer Anderson, of the Union Depot police. James Martin, a hack driver, instituted action against the officer for surety of the peace. He alleges that defendant threatened that, unless deponent staid entirely away from the depot, he would kick his head off.

Assault and Battery.—Richard Straw appeared before Alderman Strain, on Saturday, and made an information against Mrs. Ann McCarthy, charging her with assault and battery. Deponent alleges that defendant struck him in the face without provocation. She was arrested on Saturday and held for a hearing to-day.

The Extortion Case.—Alderman Nicholson, on Saturday, decided to hold officer John Sarber to answer at Court the charge of extortion preferred against him by J. W. Mickey, the circumstances of which we fully detailed in Saturday's issue.

Found Drowned.—Coroner Clawson started up to McKeesport yesterday to hold an inquest on the body of a man found floating in the river at that point. We have not yet heard the name of deceased nor the verdict of the jury.

The Jakey yesterday accused us with stealing puns from the circus. No body will ever accuse the editor of that sheet with the larceny of such trifles, if milestones are not watched.

TIME'S CHANGES.

On Tuesday last, in New York, delegates were chosen to a Convention to revise the State Constitution. In the discussion which preceded the election, the principles embodied in the accomplished or pending amendments to the Federal Constitution were naturally brought under consideration, and particularly that one which respects the removal of all political disabilities from colored citizens. It was instructive to note the remarkable alteration of views manifested by some prominent and influential journals, together with the efforts they made to have it understood they had undergone no change whatever.

When President LINCOLN embraced the Emancipation Policy, the present editor of the Commercial Advertiser voluntarily relinquished the important position he then held, because both from principle and expediency he believed that Policy to be wrong and pernicious. He thought he foresaw all manner of mischiefs in store for the national cause, and for both races, in that sublime act of national justice. The evils he anticipated were none of them encountered, and the future, on that head, seems to be so grandly assured that even a confirmed misanthropist is ashamed to vent dolorous prognostications. Now an error of judgment is not a crime, though men who pride themselves upon the possession of uncommon perspicacity are apt to hold it to be much worse. If this gentleman, in view of the failure of his predictions, had simply owned that he was mistaken, and had expressed gratification that none of the evils he feared had come upon the Republic, he would have extricated himself gracefully from the dilemma in the estimation of all honorable men. But his pride of superior consistency and wisdom would not let him do that. So he was led to beat about, assigning reasons which everybody knew were not the true reasons, and so presenting himself in an absurd and ridiculous attitude.

The World found itself, in consequence of the progress of events, in a still more perplexing predicament. Its hatred of Liberty for all men of all races, had been more strongly pronounced, and its special contempt of the blacks had flashed out, especially during the New York riots, like a vehement and consuming flame. But it has the advantage its venerable neighbor in possessing youth, agility and more unscrupulousness. It cares more for the jaunty air with which it wears its mantle, than for the quality of the stuff of which the garment is made. It has an easy and jocular adaptability to circumstances. It can curse or coax; treat with the most outrageous ruffian violence, or court with all the blandishments of an accomplished gallant. It regards results alone, and is not careful as to means. Hence, when it found unexpectedly one morning, that more than half a million of black men had been drawn into political array, each with a ballot in his hand, and this in States it counted on as certain to give immense democratic majorities, as soon as reconstructed, it instantly comprehended the situation, and the only remedy suited to the case, and at once took to "courting" the owners of so much power.

But the World was not content to do this on GOLDSMITH's idea of "stooping to conquer;" or in obedience to WEBSTER's injunction to "conquer your prejudices, so as to perform an unwilling duty." It, too, was seized with the miserable itch of wanting to preserve a seeming consistency where none was. So it forthwith fell to work to prove, as irrefragably as round asseverations could, that it had never hated impartial Freedom, had never disliked the blacks, had never encouraged furious Irishmen to fall upon them with all the terrors of mob law, but had always been abolitionists. Of course, it had cogent reasons for not avowing its convictions. There are a great many important principles in the world, out of which arise corresponding duties. The Constitution guaranteed certain rights to slaveholders, and the obligation to see that the enjoyment of these rights was unimpeded, was as imperative as any other obligation; nay, was superior to the obligation to respect the natural but overborne right to Liberty in the blacks.

We doubt the ability of the World to make the blacks see the case in exactly that light. While it is not presumable they will object to the "courting" process now recommended, many of them cannot fail of having lively recollections of the harsh treatment of former years.

NEW YORK.

The Republicans have a decided majority of the Constitutional Convention chosen on Tuesday last, though a considerable number of able and upright Democrats are members of the body, and will contribute essentially to the wisdom of the deliberations and the value of the results.

The work of revising the Constitution of a Commonwealth is beyond the true sphere of political parties. It is a matter which vitally concerns all the people, and should be conducted in the interests of the whole and not of a part.

Some fault has been found because certain gentlemen, conspicuous in their respective parties, were not nominated for seats in this Convention. Because of their prominence, they were presumed to possess superior abilities and uncommon knowledge bearing upon the labor to be performed. In certain instances, these criticisms may be justified by facts, but on the whole they are entitled to little weight. A good many men attain high political positions, and hold them through long successions of years, who are ordinary men, incompetent to manage any important private enterprise with average skill. Sometimes they slip in and stay because of quarrels or jealousies between stronger men. Sometimes they win prominence by simple good nature. A natural disposition to oblige makes them general favorites. Not unfrequently they have adroitness in managing men, but incompetency in marshalling ideas. A large part of all the men in public life are not conspicuous for talent. More brains is required, and actually employed, in running the business enterprises of any considerable town, say from the size of New York to that of Pittsburgh, than is even brought together in Congress, or in any other departments of the public service. We have no faith in fossils; least of all, in the political sort.

It is most likely the Convention will provide for abolishing the election of Judges by the people. The evils have much more than counterbalanced the advantages of that method of selecting them. An attempt will certainly be made to take from the Legislature all authority in the matter of granting or amending corporate franchises. So corrupt a use has been made of this authority by representative bodies, in New York as in other States, that the only efficient means of redress seems to be in depriving them of it wholly. As another means of promoting honesty in legislation, it will be proposed to increase the numbers of the representative bodies, perhaps to the extent practiced in most of the New England States. It seems probable that all distinctions between white and black citizens will be removed.

It will be worth while for Pennsylvanians to observe the doings of this Convention with some care; for only a year or two will elapse before a Convention will be ordered here, if the people are wise and insist upon their rights.

THE INDIANS.

Many years ago, under the influence of exaggerated estimates both of the wrongs inflicted by the whites upon the aborigines of this country, and of their character and conduct, a sickly sentimentality was very generally indulged respecting them. Time and observation have disrobed these estimates of their enchantment. It has come to be the rule to judge the Indians, precisely as other people are judged, by what they are absolutely, and by what they bring to pass. Upon this basis there is little ground to commiserate their fate, for a viler set of vagabonds do not vex the earth.

When European civilization was brought hither the Indians had three courses open to them. 1. To accept it, and thus elevate themselves in the scale of being; 2. To reject it, maintaining the savage condition in which for ages they had existed; 3. To reject the virtues of the civilization with which they were brought into contact, and to adopt its vices. They did the latter, and with a will, because the vices were congenial to their nature, while the virtues they disdained found nothing with which they could assimulate.

In looking back over the history of this country since the incoming of the whites, the number of Indians who have embraced the habits of civilized life is marvellously small. As by a sort of instinct they have turned away from it, resolved not to give up their barbarism. Adding all the bad habits of base white men to their own, they have been compelled by advancing columns of superior beings to recede step by step, and have constantly diminished in numbers until they are in a fair way of reaching early extinction. It will be well for the country, and none the worse for them, when they shall entirely disappear.

Like phenomena are presented in the islands of the Pacific ocean, particularly in the Sandwich Islands. The natives, though in some instances they have been tenderly dealt with, and have adopted civilized ideas and practices in a much larger degree than the aborigines here, are certainly and swiftly approaching extinction. Indeed, the more direct their contact with civilization the more rapidly do they wither and vanish.

General HANCOCK is on an expedition against several of the Indian tribes. He has had interviews with many of their chiefs. The accounts received of these tribes all concur in representing them a lying, thieving, wandering set of scamps. The General told them, very bluntly, what he thought of them and what he meant to do with them in case they did not give satisfactory assurances of future good conduct. What reliable assurances they can give is to us inexplicable.

MR. ERASTUS BROOKS, of the New York Express, has just returned from a Southern tour, and gives his readers some account of what he saw and heard as to the course pursued by the blacks. He says:

"All realize that, now that the negro is free, he must be educated as far as possible. The leading men of the South advocated this, and welcome all aid and encouragement to secure this end. The negro is much more tractable this year than last. He labors better in the field and better in the workshops. He is content either with a division of profits upon the farm or fair monthly wages on the road. In many things, it is true, he is a mere child, and weaker than a child, in his dandyism and foppery; and this is particularly true of the young women, who are in danger of spending a year's earnings in a week or a day, unless well advised and controlled. But everywhere in Virginia, in Tennessee, in Georgia, and South Carolina, one hears of improvement, such as better culture in the field, better regard for contracts, and that sense of self-reliance which was not felt at all one year after the war."

This is testimony from a witness whose views, if he has any, is against the blacks. But it is confirmed abundantly by all sorts of deponents. Indeed, the improvement of the blacks, their general good conduct, and industrious deportment, seems to be affirmed by unanimous consent.

It cannot be denied that the mass of the Southern blacks, through no fault of their own, are ignorant and debased. Under the system of Slavery they were treated as little better than brutes, valuable mainly, if not exclusively, for the work that could be forced out of them. Some of the household servants were on a better footing; but these were few in comparison with the whole. It is a work of serious magnitude to transform these millions into intelligent citizens, fully competent to participate in all the functions of government. But it will be done.

Mr. BROOKS states that the whites now realize that the blacks must be educated. This is a most important advantage resulting from giving the blacks the ballot. Under Slavery it was a penitentiary offence to teach a black to read. It followed necessarily that their industry was of the ruder sort. The masters did not dare trust them with education enough for success in the higher employment. Now they will be educated; their industry diversified and rendered more valuable to themselves and the nation; and a marked general improvement may reasonably be anticipated.

Nor are the blacks behind in the disposition to acquire education. The testimony is unbroken that they are intent on learning, and bid fair to completely distance the poor whites.

GIVE NATURE A LIFT.

People expect too much of Nature. They trifle with their health and their constitutions, and then are surprised that they fall sick.

The pressure of constant mental or bodily labor, upon the animal powers, is tremendous. Very few systems and constitutions can bear up against this pressure unassisted. And to this the unhealthy influences which lurk unseen in the air we breathe, the water we drink, the lassitude produced at this season by the change from the rigor of Winter to the warmth of Spring, and it would seem to require almost superhuman vigor to keep in perfect health without reinforcing the physical energies.

But how reinforce them? Certainly not with adulterated stimulants. There is no poison in the outer air, or in the atmosphere of furnace-heated rooms, or work-shops, or factories, so pernicious as those deadly-burning fluids. Why use them, when HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a vegetable tonic without alloy, are everywhere obtainable? Nothing has ever been offered to the feeble and debilitated so harmless in its nature, so powerful in its invigorating effects, as this celebrated STOMACHIC AND ALTERATIVE.

In the army and the navy, in new settlements, and in crowded cities, by old and young, rich and poor, it is used as a PROTECTIVE AND RESTORATIVE MEDICINE, with most gratifying results.

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Swett, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is one of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, enabling them to regain their lost tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases, where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is likewise well suited to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen, which effected radical cures of diseases of the bladder and kidneys of years standing.

Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of Asa Goodnue, published some time ago.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is prescribed in leucorrhoea, gleet, and other diseases of the urinary passages; in piles and chronic inflammation or ulceration of the bowels, in chronic catarrhal affections, and in various forms of rheumatism." It is exceedingly valuable in all gravelly affections, bloody urine, and where there is red and white sediment. It can be taken without interruption to one's usual avocations; and instead of sickening, produces a bracing, healthy power of endurance and vigor. Price, $1 per bottle; six for $5. Ask for "POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND. For sale by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at DR. KEYSER'S Great Medicine Store, 140 Wood street. ap20

The Late Tow-Boat Explosion—Report of the United States Local Inspectors.

On Monday last Messrs. Walker and Atkinson, United States Local Inspectors for the port of Pittsburgh, commenced investigating the circumstances attending the explosion of the Alexander Chambers, which occurred at Birmingham, on Thursday, the 18th inst. The following is their report:

OFFICE U. S. LOCAL INSPECTORS,
PITTSBURGH, April 26, 1867.

George C. McLain, Surveyor of Customs, Port of Pittsburgh.

SIR: We respectfully submit the following report, after investigating the matter of the explosion, or collapse of the flue of the steam-tug "Alex. Chambers," April 18, 1867: On this morning steam was raised in the boilers of the "Chambers," and they proceeded from the wharf of the Allegheny river to the Monongahela for a flat barge, and while waiting near Dam No. 1 to see the person in whose care the barge was say about half an hour, they made fast to a flat or barge lying at shore, and while in the act of making fast a flue collapsed, scalding four persons, one of whom since died. The Engineer in charge at the time, James Reno, says he tried the water several times, while lying there, and found plenty of water over the flues, and that the steam-gague at no time indicated more than ninety pounds pressure; he also states that on the way around the safety valve blew off very lightly, and that he took two wrenches and hung them on the line holding the valve down. He did not try whether the valve would raise sufficiently or not, and independent of the steam gauge. He did not know what steam he was carrying. The Captain, also, states that in looking at the steam gague, about ten or fifteen minutes before the explosion, it indicated about eighty pounds; John Revise, deck hand, one of the persons injured, states that before the explosion he heard a hissing sound at the boilers, so unusual that he became alarmed and turned his back upon them. And James McBride testifies that he went aboard of the boat, after they had brought her back into the Allegheny, and seen the engineer disconnect the steam gague; before it was taken apart the hand indicated about forty pounds, and from other evidence we know that it had been standing that way ever since the explosion; the moment the nut was slackened the hand flew back to its place, and those that examined the washers in the pipe say they were of gum, and the opening very small. Here we think the engineer was deceived, the gum washer having almost, if not altogether, closed up the opening in the pipe connecting the gague with the steam pipe, so much that he could not tell by the gague what amount of steam he had. Again, we think that if the safety valve had been in working order it would have shown that the gague was obstructed in some way or other, the engineer neglected his duty in not ascertaining whether everything was in perfect working order or not; before he raised steam in the boilers, he should have examined the safety valve carefuly and seen whether it acted freely or not. From the appearance of the valve afterwards, we would say that it was so much corroded that it would not act. After the valve was taken apart it took several blows of a hammer to drive the valve loose from the stem. It had been lying there inactive so long that it had rusted and stuck tight to the stem, so that we think the valve did in its seat. We found the water guage of the port boiler without a float, and the float was found in the engineer's locker. Several things tend to show that the water was below the top of the flue that collapsed. The iron in the flue is, to the best of our knowledge, of a first rate quality, and the fact of the flue collapsing from the sides, pressing the top up, would tend to show that the top of the flue became heated, and the pressure forced the sides of the flue in and the top up, hence the collapse. We do not believe that the Engineer acted recklessly, but that he erred in judgment and neglected to know that every appliance to denote the state of the water or steam in the boilers was in good working order. We believe the collapse occurred from an excessive pressure of steam and scarcity of water on the injured flue, and for the reasons we do hereby revoke his, (James Reno's) license as Engineer.

Very respectfully,
GEO H. ATKINSON,
SAMUEL WALKER,
U. S. Local Inspectors.

Consolidated Pittsburgh.

The Erie Dispatch, a clearsighted journal, which speaks knowingly upon the subjects discussed in its columns' recently contained the following article bearing upon our local question of consolidation:

The second city in Pennsylvania, and the first in iron manufactures in the Republic, has recently performed the lobster-like trick of growing all at once into extraordinary dimensions, so far as the Legislature is concerned. Heretofore her territory has been somewhat limited, but she has been surrounded by a numberof thriving towns and surburban cities that have in fact been component parts of herself, though under different municipal administrations. Now there is a chance to get rid of all of these nuisances, as the question is to be voted upon by the people of the respective municipalities. Probably there will be some fools in those communities who will vote against the proposition, as they may fear that their insignificances may be forgotten or overlooked in the general scramble for offices in the great cities. But unless the fools predominate more largely in the vicinity of Pittsburgh than any where else, the people will vote to organize a new and splendid city out of these fragments. And that being done the Keystone State can point to a new and large jewel in her crown of enterprise. The new city is proposed to cover about four square miles and will cover all the main business of the vicinity.

There has been some trouble in arranging the local debts. It seems as though it would not take too long to see through that millstone. Let that section of the new city that has incurred any debt that specially benefits it, be taxed separately to pay it; but where the debt benefits all alike, let all help to pay it. It may require a little patience and extra work for a while, but it will soon be over. Philadelphia was in the same condition a few years ago that Pittsburgh is now, but she got nicely consolidated without any trouble, and never has been sorry. Boston, Massachusetts, is situated just as Pittsburgh is, and has been trying for some years to "hitch on" one or more of the suburban cities, but has failed so far. The yankee is an awfully "set" animal; and the mischief is that all the small cities, except Chelsea, are in other counties, and thus the opposition comes from a larger area than the cities themselves. But this evil does not pertain to Pittsburgh. She has only the little silly local objections to contend with.

We hope she will succeed in enlarging the boundaries, and then we shall have two glorious places in the commonwealth of which we shall not be ashamed, and we confidently hope that before a great many decades pass away the third of the illustrious trio will be Erie. We shall not object to train in such good company, and if hard work will do it, that result will come. So go ahead, Pittsburgh—Erie will back you.

73. Buffum, Kehew & Co. vs. Mrs. E. F. Denny.

78. Joh R. and Nancy Large vs. Jane and Robert Robb.
79. Cyrus Reed vs Adam Berry.
84. E. S. Ward vs. S. K. Kane et al.
85. E. S. Ward vs. Geo. B. Jones' adm'r.

COMMON PLEAS COURT.

The Argument List will be taken up and disposed of during this week; also, the Orphans' Court and Quarter Sessions lists.

Motion to Discharge Refused.

In the Quarter Sessions, on Saturday, application was made to have discharged from prison, James Walker, committed by Justice Harrison, of Port Perry, for assault and battery with intent to kill, on the ground that the commitment did not set forth the name of the prosecutor. The District Attorney resisted the application, stating that owing to the serious character of the charge the rule requiring reasonable notice to be given the committing magistrate should be complied with. Such notice not having been given, the motion was refused.

Viewers Appointed.

In the matter of the laying out of a public road in Liberty township, the Quarter Sessions Court on Saturday appointed as viewers Messrs. J. S. Devlin, (artist,) Moses Phillips and John Cartwright.

In the matter of the petition for a bridge over Plum creek, in Plum and Penn townships, Messrs. R. F. Logan, (artist,) David Collins, and Edward Stotler were appointed viewers.

Alleged Youthful Ravisher Discharged.—We stated in Saturday's paper that a writ of habeas corpus had been issued on Friday, with a view of securing the discharge of Adam Williams, not quite fourteen years of age, committed to jail by Justice Stephens, of Union township, on a charge of outraging a girl aged about eleven years, named Catherine Edwards. A hearing was had on Saturday forenoon, before Judge Mellon, which resulted in the discharge of the accused, it appearing that he had not yet reached the statutory age to render him amenable for the crime charged.

The boys have formed a great admiration for Dr. Thayer, of the circus, who very generously dead-headed scores of them, rather than see the tears trickle down their cheeks for want of money to see the show. Kindness to children is a commendable trait, and Dr. Thayer possesses it to a wonderful degree.

Erratum.—In noticing the recent infanticide case in Allegheny, we stated that the accused parties resided on Ann street, instead of properly saying that they resided on Martin street. We make the correction, as the parties dwelling in that number on Ann street are annoyed at the mistake.

Common Pleas Court.—In the case of David F. Henry vs. Union Storing and Refining Petroleum Company, the jury found a verdict for defendant. In the case of Meanor vs. Brightman, plaintiff's counsel moved for a new trial.

Burglarious.—Friday night last the furniture store and dwelling of John Benifort, on Ohio street, Allegheny, was entered by burglars, who were, however, frightened off before they could secure any plunder.

District Court.—In the case of Mary Ann Daly vs James Meilingar, the jury, on Saturday morning, rendered a verdict in favor of plaintiff for $1,000.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HELMBOLD'S
Concentrated Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla

Eradicates ERUPTIVE and ULCERATIVE DISEASES of the THROAT, NOSE, EYES, EYELIDS, SCALP and SKIN,

Which so disfigure the appearance, PURGING the evil effects of mercury and removing all taints, the remnants of DISEASES, hereditary or otherwise, and is taken by ADULTS and CHILDREN with perfect safety.

TWO TABLE SPOONFULS of the Extract of Sarsaparilla, added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoctions as usually made.

AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico-Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the Extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections, by Benjamin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken, and yet so irritable, as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, April 27, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as received by Mr. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 136¾; Eighty-one bonds, 109¾; Five Twenties, 1862, 110; do, 1864, 108⅝; do, 1865, 108⅞; Consols, '65, 107¼; Ten Forties, 98¾; Seven Thirties, 106; Michigan Southern Railroad, 67½; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 71¾; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 97⅞; Chicago and Northwestern, common, 34⅞; do preferred, 59⅞; New York Central, 98⅛; Reading, 103¼; Erie, 59⅝; Chicago and Rock Island, 88⅛.

Gold opened at 138, declined to 136⅝, advanced to 136⅞, and closed weak at 136¼, with a downward tendency. Government securities opened weak, but as the day advanced became firm, and advanced about ¼ per cent. Railroad shares opened at a decline from last night's closing quotations; were dull at first board, weak at the one o'clock board, and closed strong, with an advance of about ½ per cent. on all the leading shares. There is the same course over again that has been pursued so often; all the bears at the beginning of the week have turned bulls, and the most timid, who three days ago predicted a colapse of all railroad shares, see nothing but the long expected spring rise in stocks coming, and and are more disposed to buy at the advance than when stocks were at the lowest of the low prices.

—The New York Tribune says: The following table shows the course of prices in leading shares since January 3. Since that date nearly the entire press of the city has lost no opportunity in proclaiming the prosperity of railways, and encouraging the public to buy them. After deducting from the "decline per share" the dividends paid, adding commission and interest, the net profits will appear:

—The following are the rates of freight east by the Pittsburgh and Fort Wayne Railroad, to the points named:

From Chicago to	Sec'd Class.	T'rd Class.	F'rth Class.	Flour bbl.
Boston & Providence	$1 64	$1 10	55c	$1 10
New York, all rail	1 54	1 00	50c	1 00
Philadelphia, all rail	1 44	91	45c	90
Baltimore, all rail	1 44	91	45c	90
Pittsburgh, all rail	80	60	30c	60

And these rates, low as they are considered, are said by the Chicago Republican to be tending downwards. Freight by the lakes is even more depressed, and is quoted almost nominal. The railroad men complain loudly that at the above rates there is little if any profit for them, and the little coming forward shows very plainly that the west is not thriving, but, like the rest of the Union, is feeling the cost of the rebellion in the payment of high taxes, which chills enterprise. The reports of commercial travellers from the west are bad. Collections are made with difficulty, and eastern merchants are informed that more goods have been sold than will be paid for promptly.

—The Cincinnati Commercial has the following in reference to the affairs of the Ohio National Bank: The Camptroller of the Currency has been compelled, from a recent examination of the affairs of the Ohio National Bank, to issue a letter of rebuke to its president, and mandatory orders as to its future management. There had, for some months previously to the examination, been no small amount of gossip reflecting upon the management of the institution, originating partly in the quarterly reports and partly from intimations gathered as to the movements of the stock, and contests as to the annual election. It seems, from all the developements made, that an entire change in the officers, if not in the directory, will be necessary before public confidence and remunerative patronage can be secured to the bank. Even though it may admitted that there are two sides to the main question at issue, the facts gathered by the examiner, and upon which the orders of the Comptroller were based, would show a reprehensible remissness on the part of the directory.

—The Chicago Tribune, of Friday, says: There is no change in the complexion of the money market. The mercantile demand is only moderate, but the applications of grain operators are numerous, and in excess of the ability of the banks. There is quite a sharp demand for renewals by pork and lard operators, who are not disposed to realize at present prices, but prefer waiting for the "good time coming." The market is comfortably close, and in some quarters reported rather tight, not so much from a shortness of currency as owing to the general unwillingness of bank managers to encourage the speculative movement now reigning in breadstuffs. The bank rate is steady at 10 per cent. for both call and time loans. In the open market good paper is bought at 1½@2 per cent. per month.

New York Financial Matters.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 27.—Money market unchanged; demand moderate; supply still increasing. Gold fell to 136¼ after the close of room, and sold freely at 136¼ under foreign news. Sterling dull; prime bankers nominally 109¾. The Bank statement of Monday will show an increase of $175,000 in loans; $3,500,000 in legal tenders and $3,800,000 in deposits, and a decrease of $218,000 in specie and $48,000 in circulation. The statement is very favorable, and reflects the greatest ease in money. Government securities are strong and active. Regular, 1881, 109¾@109⅞; coupons 1881, 109¾@109⅞; Five-Twenties, regular 1862, 105@105¾; do coupons 1864, 108⅛@109; do. 1865, 109@109⅛; do. January and July, 107⅝@107⅞; Ten-Forties, coupons, 98⅛@98¼; August Seven-Thirties, 106⅛@106⅜; June do., 105⅞@105⅞; State Bonds—Missouri, 94⅛; Tennessee ex-coupons, 63; do, new issue, 60½; North Carolina, 47; Georgia 7s, 74¼. Railroad speculation very firm all after one o'clock Board; when prices in the long room were lower. There was a sharp rally at the close, with an increased demand, Erie and Northwestern have been the leading features of the day.

Wm. Heath & Co report the following as the rates at 5:30 p. m., the market closing strong with an upward tendency: American gold, 136; Ohio certificates, 23⅞@24⅛; Canton, 43½@45½; Cumberland Coal 30@32; Quicksilver, 28⅛@29; Mariposa, 7@7¼; do preferred, 20½@21½; Western Union Telegraph, 39⅞; New York Central, 98@98⅛; Erie, 59⅝@59⅞; do preferred, 79@79½; Hudson, 99@99; Reading, 103¾@103⅞; Michigan Central, 108@108½; do Southern, 68⅛@68⅜; Illinois Central, 113⅞@114; Pittsburgh, 71⅞; Toledo, 113@114; Rock Island and Pacific, 88⅞@88¼; North Western, 35¾@36; do preferred, 60; Fort Wayne, 93⅛@93⅜; Miscellaneous list higher; Steamship shares firm; Atlantic 89¾@89¾; Pacific, 128@128⅛; Coal shares quiet and unchanged. Mining stocks very quiet at the morning board and scarcely any change in quotations at an informal meeting in the afternoon, Corydon, 730; Nye, 65, and Gregory, 895.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, April 27, 1867.

The produce markets have been rather dull during the past week, though Flour and Grain are again excited and higher, and the advance in gold, on Wednesday and Thursday, imparted a firmer tone to imported goods, especially Sugars and Coffee. The pacific character of the cable news on Friday caused gold to decline 3@4 per cent., and, as a matter of course, the articles above referred to, will be affected to that extent thereby.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet—no stock in this market. Oats, dull with a supply considerably in excess of the demand; we now quote at 60 to 62c, on track, and 64 to 65c in store. Corn is firm and in demand; sale of 3 cars prime Yellow, to go east, at $1,10. Rye is quiet and unchanged: may be quoted at $1,58 to $1,60. Barley, $1,05 to $1,15.

FLOUR—Is firm, with a fair demand, and prices are well sustained. We continue to quote at $14,50 to $15 for good to choice Spring Wheat; $15 to $16 for Winter Wheat, and $18 to $19 for fancy brands. Rye Flour, $9.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet and unchanged at 9½ to 10c for Shoulders; 11¾ to 12¾ for Ribbed and Clear Sides; 14 for Plain Hams; 15½ to 15¾c for Plain Sugar Cured, and 16½ to 16¾c for Canvassed. Dried Beef, 23c. Lard, 13c to 13¼, and Mess Pork, $23 to $23,50 per barrel.

BUTTER—Is quiet and unchanged, with a supply considerably in excess of the demand; prime to choice fresh Roll may be quoted at 28c to 30c. For common packed Butter there is no demand, and it appears to be unsaleable.

EGGS—A shade firmer to-day, owing to a speculative feeling, though, prices, as yet, are no better, 15c to 16.

SEEDS—Cloverseed is dull and drooping, and the demand is light. Flaxseed is in good demand at $3, and Timothy is selling in store, at $3 to $3,25.

POTATOES—Dull, with liberal arrivals, and a supply considerably in excess of the demand, but, as yet, prices are unchanged. Small sales, in store, at 95c to $1—may be quoted at 90c, on track.

HAY—Prime Timothy Hay is in demand, and sells without much difficulty at full prices, while common and inferior is very dull; the former is selling on track and wharf at $25 to $26.

GREEN APPLES—Quiet and irregular; sales reported all the way from $4 to $6, as to quality and condition.

OIL—Lard is in steady demand, with regular sales at 90 cents for No. 2, and $1,10 for No. 1.

ASHES—Sales of common Soda Ash at 5¼; Refined do at 5¾c; and Pearls at 14c.

BEANS—Prime Small White $2,75.

LIME—Sales of White at $2.

PIG LEAD—Sales at 10¾c.

DRIED FRUIT—Is dull and unchanged.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, April 27, 1867.

CRUDE—The market continues dull and depressed, with but little disposition manifested on the part of either buyer or seller to operate. Prices have undergone no change, 6¾c to 6½c, on spot; 6¾c to 7c for May; 7¼c for first half of June. We have sales of 1000 bbls at 6¼c; 1000, 1500, and 800, all at 6¾c. Taking present prices, $2,35 to $2,40 at Oil City, and $2,65 to $2,70, delivered here, as a basis, there is no profit whatever for the crude dealer, after deducting freights and other running expenses—indeed, they can hardly get out with a "whole skin." One of two things must take place, and that, too, very soon, the price must improve here, or decline at Oil City, and it will most likely be the latter, judging from present appearances. The market has been rather dull during the entire week, the sales, in the aggregate, being comparatively light, while prices have undergone but little change one way or the other.

REFINED—The operations in bonded oil were unusually large, the reported sales reaching thirteen thousand five hundred barrels, as follows: 2000 bbls running from July to October, 500 each month, standard white, delivered in Philadelphia, at 30; 7000 bbls running from June to December, 1000 bbls each month, at 28¼; 4000 running from May to December, 500 each month, at 28¼; and 500 for September, at 29. The demand for spot oil is light, and prices are weak though unchanged—29 to 29¼, for prime light straw to white, and 21¾ to 31¼ for standard white, on board cars here; 26 to 26¼ for the former delivered in Philadelphia, and 27 to 27½ for the latter. For free oil, the market is very dull, the demand being very light, and restricted almost entirely to supplying the immediate wants of the local trade. We continue to quote at 40 to 41 for standard brands—42@43, in a retail way.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals of oil were reported to-day:

Kier, Moore & Co	1600	Chas. Ecky	51

Review of the Wholesale Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 27.—During the week flour was more active, with a decided reaction in lower grades, and all kinds have improved; the arrivals of western have been limited for the season, but now that the Strait of Mackinaw is open, more liberal arrivals are anticipated; trade and family grades in small supply and closed firm; low grades close active and higher. Early in the week wheat was comparatively quiet, but, subsequently, the war news from Europe, and the material advance in gold, caused a rapid rise in prices, and the high rates asked have checked the demand. Barley has been fair, the demand being chiefly for export; at the close the market was quiet but firm. Oats in more active demand and the prices rapidly improved but easy at the close. Corn in active demand and the market much excited, the request being partly speculative, though for export stock reduced to less than 950,000; at close prices much easier and unsettled. Pork in fair demand with moderate prices, at about $6 less per barrel than at this time last year. Stocks are about the same; market closes easier. Beef has been in better demand, and with small stocks prices have a firm tendency upwards. Coffee active at a slight decline. Cotton dull and unsteady in the early part of the week, but at the close improved, buyers and sellers being apart in their views; market closed quiet. Imports for the week were dry goods, $1,335,866; general merchandise; $6,263,854. Exports for nine months ending March 31st, including specie: $157,305,239; imports do. $93,477,656.

Chicago Cattle Market.

CHICAGO, April 25.—The fresh receipts of beef cattle to-day at the Union Stock Yards are 1,181 head. Entered sales, 787 head at prices ranging from $4@6,50 for common cows and light steers; $7@7,12½ for good butcher's steers, and from $7,87½@8,75 for good to choice extra beeves. The market is fairly active at a decline of from 10@15c on yesterday's quotations; there is considerable animation in the yards to-day, but from the unfavorable advices from Albany, and the large receipts, concessions have been submitted to, and a large number are left over unsold at the close.

Chicago Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, April 27.—Flour firm and quiet. Wheat firm and 2c higher, closing steady at $2,63 regular, and $2,64@2,65 for northwestern. No 2 and No 1 inactive and nominal. Cincinnati Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, April 27.—Flour scarce, especially sound grades, though the demand is light, and full rates obtained, trade brands and is light; superfine $12@16,00. RIVER NEWS.

The river was apparently at a stand yesterday afternoon with a little over seven feet in the channel by the Allegheny Barks. The weather was clear and pleasant, and apparently settled.

The Bellevernon, from St. Louis, is the only transient arrival we have to report. The Argosy, from Cincinnati, is due here to-morrow, and will leave on Wednesday, as usual.

The Glendale and Lorena arrived at St. Louis on Wednesday from Pittsburgh, and the Luella left there on Thursday for the mountains.

The America, for Tennessee River; Peerless, for Cincinnati, and the Nora, for the gold regions, cleared on Saturday. The America and Peerless had very good trips, though neither one was loaded down. The former boat had a considerable amount of freight for New Orleans, which she will reship at Cincinnati.

The reported sale of the Peerless is contradicted by authority. Capt. Coffman says that he never authorized the Cincinnati papers to state that he had purchased her. It is possible that she may be sold on her arrival at Cincinnati.

The Ida Rees, Capt. Joe Brown, will commence loading for Cincinnati and Louisville to-day, and she will be ready to take her departure on Wednesday or Thursday. The Maggie Hays, Capt. D. L. Hendrickson is next in turn for Saint Louis after the Minnie.

The St. Louis papers do not speak in very flattering terms of the Louisville "low pressure" Richmond. The Democrat says that on her recent up trip from New Orleans, she did not average more than ten miles per hour, yet, in the face of this the Louisville papers have the hardihood to assert that she made the fastest time that has been made in six years. Already the journals of the last named city have been compelled to acknowledge that in point of style, beauty, finish, appearance and capacity, the Great Republic is decidedly ahead of the Richmond, and before many years pass away, these same papers will very likely concede another and important point, speed. It is sheer nonsense for Louisville to think of competing with Pittsburgh in building steamboats.

The Minnie, Capt. A. H. Shaw, with Mr. A. C. McConnell, in the office, will be the first boat out for St. Louis, and passengers should bear this in mind.

The local inspectors who have been engaged for some time in investigating the cause of the explosion of the towboat Alex Chambers, have made their report. The report concludes as follows:

"We do not believe that the engineer acted recklessly, but that he erred in judgment and neglected to know that every appliance to denote the state of water or steam in the boilers was in good working order. We believe the collapse occurred from an excessive pressure of steam and a scarcity of water on the injured flue, and for these reasons we do hereby revoke his, Jas. Reno's, license as engineer."

The contract for the improvement of the Ohio river from this city to Cairo, has been awarded to Capt. John Rodgers, of the steamer Greenback. He has all the appliances ready for work, and will commence operations about the 14th of May. The work of improvement is under charge of W. Milnor Roberts, Superintendent of Ohio River improvements. It is contemplated to remove all "snags," wrecks, rocks and other obstructions in the channel of the river throughout its course.

The St. Louis Republican, of Thursday, says: The Great Republic, pursuant to advertisement, departed last evening for New Orleans, with a cargo consisting of nearly 1300 tuns of flour, corn, oats, pork, etc., etc. Our merchants appear to be determined to support the energy displayed by Captain Donaldson in building this magnificent craft. As but few people are at this season of the year travelling down the river, the "Republic" had only about fifty passengers. This, however, is a better trip of people than any boat has had for some weeks.

The Cincinnati Enquirer, of Saturday, says: Capt. Z. C. Gray passed through the city yesterday from St. Louis, for Pittsburgh. Mr. H. J. Donally, formerly of the office of the St. James, was married in Wheeling Thursday. The happy couple arrived in the city yesterday. Mr. H. C. Hazlett, of the office of the New York, was detained here by illness. He had sufficiently to leave for his home at Pittsburgh yesterday.

A St. Louis telegram, under date of Friday, says:

A couple of comparatively large boats, the Graham and Tracy are taking on freight for the Upper Missouri river ports. The mountain steamers loading thirty have departed, and a few more have not departed. Freight is in fair supply for the New Orleans, Memphis and Vicksburg packets. Boats for the Missouri, go out crowded with passengers. The Milbrey, formerly the Annie Jacob, was sold yesterday for $10,000 to parties who will run her between Paducah and Eastport. Seven boats of the late Johnsonville line remain unsold.

Twenty-eight steamers have left Saint Louis for the mountains, up to the 24th inst. Some of them, it is said, will never reach their destination.

The Memphis papers mention a collision as follows: "The M. S. Mepham passed up yesterday for Louisville in a crippled condition. The Continental and Mepham, both bound up stream, were running the shore together above Helena, on Friday, when the pilot of the Mepham undertook to run across the bow of the Continental, and the latter stove in part of the Mepham's wheel house and broke her after guards."

Among recent steamboat sales at Saint Louis, are the following: "G. A. Thompson, March 19th, one-fourth by James H. Kelly to Joseph M. Woods, for $4,500; Saint Croix, Henry Daft sold an eighth to Nelson J. Rulinson, and an eighth to Merritt Wheeler, for $500 each; Evening Star, Elijah W. Murphy sold one-fifth to Archibald S. Bryan for $4,000.

The depth of water on the Upper Mississippi Rapids is eight and a half feet. The water is within two feet of being as high as it has been for the past two years. We are informed by the Dubuque papers that the river is rising at that point.

Captain Allen Duncan and others have bought the steamer Phantom, at Evansville, for $14,000, and will place her in the Tennessee river from that port.

The steamer Mollie McPike has been sold for $26,500 to the Quincy and St. Louis Packet Company, and has taken her place in that trade.

A St. Louis telegram, under date of Thursday, says: River still rising slowly; plenty of water in the upper rivers. The overflow continues at different points. Weather fine; business increasing. Receipts and shipments very considerable. The wharf continues crowded with boats, some of them being laid up. The Great Republic continued the chosen place of visitation of hundreds, until her departure last evening. She has an immense amount of freight; her guards were very near the water. The Tacony left yesterday to take the place of the David Watts in her trip to the mountains. Steamer Alice Wild, a small boat running between Galena and Belleville, has been sold to go up the Missouri. The Mountaineer, for Benton, has passed Omaha. She put out there fifty tons damaged freight for storage and sale. Steamer Lizzie Tate is coming here, from New Orleans, towed by the Yankee.

We clip the following items from the Cincinnati Commercial, of Friday:

Mr. Cal. W. Bennett, Jr., only makes the present trip to St. Louis, in the office of the Henry Adkins, as her regular Missouri River clerk will take charge on her arrival at that point. The Golden Era, Capt. A. M. Halladay, has abandoned her trip to New Orleans, and accepted the contract of J. W. Benning & Co., to take a cargo of 500 tons to Shreveport, on Red River. The Armadillo, Capt. D. H. Swaney, has given up her trip to Pittsburgh, and will load for Memphis. She reships her Pittsburgh freight some 135 tons, on the Argosy. The Argosy will arrive and depart on time to-day as usual. The America, Capt. Thos. H. Golding, leaves Pittsburgh for this city on Saturday, with a large amount of New Orleans freight, which she will reship here, and 100 tons of Tennessee River freight. She will leave here for the Tennessee river on Thursday. The Itasca, Savanna, Key City and Minnesota, arrived at St. Paul on the 22d inst., the first boats of the season.
